THE 6,887TH JEWISH NEW

Year, since the creation of the world, according to the Jewish calendar, began on Friday with the rising of the evening star and ended last night at sunset.

This solemn day, important to one of the world's most ancient races, reminds you that there is a new Jerusalem here in the new world, one more important by far than the little walled city built on the trade route between Egypt and Mesopotamia.

IN NEW YORK yesterday, 1,100,000 men, women and children, in synagogues and homes observed Rosh Hashana, didn't want year.

Jerusalem could be tucked in one corner of Central Park in New York, where the American Jewish population is fifty times as numerous as the population of Jerusalem in olden times.

We don't know how long it took to build that little city of Jews, called Jerusalem, made up of the bravest, fiercest fighters of the Bedouin tribes. But we do know how long it has taken to build up a city of more than 1,000,000 energetic Jewish citizens within New York, the greatest city in America.

IT WAS ON AUGUST 23, 1864, that Jacob Barsinman landed, the first Jew to set foot in what was to be New York City. The following month he celebrated Rosh Hashana all alone.

Old Peter Stuyvesant, Dutch boss of old New York, didn't want Jews. When twenty-three of them arrived on the French war vessel St. Charles he proposed to send them back. But the West India company, more intelligent, wouldn't permit it.

Perhaps if Stuyvesant had had more brains New York might still be Dutch. As it is, for every Dutchman in the city there are a hundred Jews at least.

CHINATOWN IN TERROR

New York Dragnet Gets 265 Following New Outbreak

Reports that members of the rival Chinese tongs had suddenly decided to regard their latest peace pact as a "scrap of paper" and, laying aside the American revolver, had reached for the good old Chinese hatchet and started upon the warpath, were followed last night in Boston by a round-up of Orientals who may be shipped back forthwith to the Flowery Kingdom.

In this city, as well as in New York, the newest endeavor to make John Chinaman respect the law of his new home was led by officials of the Immigration Bureau of the United States Department of Labor.

The total number of Chinese held in New York for deportation was brought to 250, arrests yesterday and on Friday night numbering 72.

Early last evening, the number of suspected toughs held in Boston for further questioning and possible deportation was 13, eight of them looked up in Station 6, East Dedham street, and four in Station 16, Back Bay. Two hundredmen under detention at Station 2 in Cambridge.

Alimony Demand by Childless Women Scored

New York, Sept. 19.

THE mere male number of the American matrimonial team had his leading today when Justice Strong denounced "the ever-increasing tendency of childless women to take advantage of helpless husbands in these days of equal rights."

Granting of alimony, except in cases where there are children, was denounced by the judge. He said:

"When a woman starts a separation action, she is either hot under the collar or filled with a desire for revenge. A man is almost powerless, and she knows it."

"In these enlightened days, I do not believe that childless women should receive alimony. Women today err as much and, in many cases, more, than men."

"Alimony keeps certain women lazy, gratifies their revenge and makes men miserable."

2 DORIES OF RUM SEIZED BY POLICE

Gloicester, Sept. 19 (A. P.).—The North Shore rum row, inactive during the summer stay of President Coolidge, yielded up two dory loads of alcohol today. A third was captured and lost.

The two dories that fell into the hands of the police contained 220 gallons of alcohol. The boats evidently had been abandoned by rum runners when they became aware of an all-night police vigil.

The city marshal and his police patrolled every road leading from the Magnolia shoreline and West Gloucester. Every automobile was stopped and searched.

THORPE TO POPULARIZE THE MINUET

MILLIONS BACK CONVICT

Reveals Outline of Plans to Make Slayer Famous Musical Conductor

Henry Ford's kindly offer to provide a living for Philip Thorpe, the prison violinist, could Thorpe's life-term for murder be commuted, struck a responsive chord in the hearts of the millions of radio fans who remembered Thorpe's tear-compelling performance during a prison broadcast last February.

The "richest man in the world" revealed at the Wayside Inn yesterday, where he is spending the week-end, his personal plan for Thorpe's future. Ford plans, if Thorpe is paroled, to make him the leader of the Wayside Inn Orchestra.

Ford's latest hobby is the promotion of the old-fashioned dances. He has provided a hall and an orchestra at his factory in Dearborn for his employees where nothing but the old-fashioned dances are featured.

Ford plans to use the colonial setting and background of the Wayside Inn to popularize the reformation of the waltz, schottische, polka and other dance forms favored by the past generation.

TO RESTORE MINUET.

Once these dances are restored in place of what Ford calls the "South Sea" dances of the present, he declared he intended to go back still further and make popular the graceful minuet of Colonial days.

Mr. Ford feels that to popularize these dances he has a unique and wonderfully appropriate setting in the famous Wayside Inn, with its literary and colonial background.

It is his intention to gather together an orchestra, an efficient it will become one of the best-known orchestras in the East.

VISIONS THORPE AS LEADER.

To the leadership of such an orchestra, Ford's plan would raise Thorpe, the prisoner, to the ranks of the great waltz and polka masters of the gray walls of Charleston prison reduced through the winter air made Thorpe the "martyred convict."

Girl's Own Story of How She Was Cured of Drug Habit

LEARNED TO TAKE MORPHINE AS ASTHMA CURE

One of Thirteen Women Addicts Treated in Worcester Hospital in Last Year

SEVEN NOW DISCHARGED

Business Women, Nurses and School Teachers Are Among Them

By MAXINE McBRIDE

Worcester, Sept. 19.—Within the walls of the Summer street jail have been housed in the last year 13 women drug addicts and pedlars, federal prisoners from all over the United States who could not be confined in their home states.

Among the 13 prisoners were women from all walks of life—business women, trained nurses, school teachers, and even a hair dresser. Seven of the original 13 have now served their time and been discharged, but six of them still remain behind the iron bars—taking the "cure" and recuperating from the ravages of the drug which they served—and served to others.

One of the women addicts told her story today. It has its first in her present location and its origin in the office of a Southern doctor.

TOOK DRUG FOR ASTHMA.

Hannah Goodwin, neat, clean and respectable in her striped prison gown, comes from Macon, Ga. In her early twenties she suffered from severe attacks of asthma. During her visits to a Macon physician's office he prescribed morphine.

Gradually, as a relief for her ailment, she became a steady patient of the doctor, taking the morphine in larger and larger doses.

"I used to take the morphine with a needle," said Hannah Goodwin. "It made me feel better for a time and gradually I could not do without it. When I could not get it from my doctor, I found other addicts who would give me some of their drugs, secured from prescriptions and pedlars."

"And then, as I became more and more reliant on the drug, I took up the securing of prescriptions from doctors and from pedlars as a regular business."

NEVER SOLD TO BEGINNERS.

"I never sold or gave the dope to beginners, though. I would never do that because I knew how badly off it had left me. Finally I was arrested on charges of vagrancy and selling drugs illegally and ended up here."

The prison doctor gave me shots of morphine in smaller and smaller doses until finally I could do without it.

"Am I going back to the habit when I get out? Never. I am cured for life. I could do without dope just as well outside prison as I can within prison now."

And Hannah Goodwin told of her intention to lead "Alabany bound" as even as the prison bars swing open for her, without a thought of the fatal "poppy seeds" along the way.

CAN ALL BE CURED.

Sheriff Richardson said that in his long experience with prisoners suffering from the effects of "dope," he had never seen an addict who could not be gradually cured from the habit. The first days, even weeks, without the usual quota of drugs they had been taking was usually an agonizing period.

Often, Sheriff Richardson said, it used to go out himself and purchase pounds of chocolate drops which he instructed the matrons to feed to the women prisoners when craving for the drug which had made them addicts. He said, for some unknown reason, used to appear their appetite.

A NURSE'S STORY.

A trained nurse, who was at one time confined in Summer street jail for addiction to drugs, offered one of the most interesting cases. She had been in a position to know the power of drugs and an easy way to procure them, and had become an addict.

The nurse suffered terribly during the first few weeks in jail, but gradually had so thrown off the habit that when she was discharged she was cured, and now heads a nursing staff in a large State hospital.

CAUGHT IN RUM CHASE AS POLICE SHOTS FLY.

A wild ride through Watertown and Brighton with two rum runners, during which three shots were fired, was the experience yesterday of Motorcycle Policeman Donahue of Station 14, Brighton. One shot escaped. The other, who was captured, gave his name as David (Cottoner). He said his companion was known as Roland Ladd of Brookline. Police seized 100 gallons of liquor.

The Knees Know Comfort in New Golf Shorts So the Ladies Have Decided to Wear Them

"They Are Tight, Cool and Proper," Says an Expert

THE new khaki "golf shorts," designed exclusively for the comfort of the male golfer, and his proud possession for three brief weeks, have been adopted by the ladies.

"They are light and cool," states an expert on male golf togethery, "and are the proper and comfortable thing for the game. By next season three-quarters of the men will be wearing them. We have a big demand for them now, and they have only just been placed on the market."

"They have the advantage over wicker knicker as knickers come slow the knee and cover the fancy line, of which the men are justly proud, and naturally like to display. The 'shorts' show the bare knee. Most men's knees are not very attractive, but if the girls take up the idea—that's a different matter."

IN ADDED ATTRACTION.

Willie Macfarlane, national open champion, has adopted the new outfit, and is an authority for the statement that clothes aid the golfer. It has been said that many a would-be champion has missed a short putt because his eye was distracted by the color of a stocking or the crease of a pair of trousers. He now bids fair to be distracted by a pair of implied knees possessed by some lady enthusiast when she appears in a pair of "shorts."

The ladies, it appears, not only like to be men's equals as to tailored suits, short hair, cigarette smoking and larger doses.

"I used to take the morphine with a needle," said Hannah Goodwin. "It made me feel better for a time and gradually I could not do without it. When I could not get it from my doctor, I found other addicts who would give me some of their drugs, secured from prescriptions and pedlars."

STRAW HAT BELL MEANS NOTHING TO PRESIDENT

Washington, Sept. 19.—Calvin Coolidge would rather be comfortable than be in style.

While most Americans shortly throw away their straw hats, the President broke off his straw hat for his usual morning walk today despite the supposed closing of the season four days ago. He said he had rather be comfortable.

NEW TONGUE FOR GIRL

Doctor Cures Her Strange Malady

A JAPANESE medical man has cured Miss Sonoko Torii, 18, whose tongue had shrunk two inches in a few months.

While a student in the Moff Girls' High School, Miss Torii felt her tongue growing shorter and found speaking difficult. Soon there was only one inch of tongue left, and she sought medical advice in vain.

She went in despair to the Kyushu Imperial University Hospital and was examined by prominent physicians, who only shook their heads.

Dr. Kusunoki, however, thought that the tongue was colonized by microbes and that to cauterize it would effect a cure. He did this in spite of doubt and opposition from the other doctors. The tongue ceased to shorten, soon began to grow again, and in three weeks had added an inch.

PSYCHIC RAYS PLEADING MISSING GIRL TO QUEST

Police Abandon Search for Girl in Abington Wood as Kin Bares Theory

"Psychic thought rays" flashing across the continent from a mother to her troubled daughter were powerful enough to start Miss Dorothy Dudley westward right through the woods near the Brockton-Abington line and cause her to vanish, in the belief of the Abington police and her relatives.

The police entertained this strange theory last night when, after a five-day search, they had been unable to find any trace of the 23-year-old woman, who walked into the woods Sunday night and disappeared.

The psychic theory was built up by the police after they had learned from several friends and relatives that she had several times disappeared mysteriously.

SEARCH ABANDONED.

Each time she talked of her mother, a well-known psychic to Tacoma, Wash., and each time she was depressed for two weeks before she disappeared.

Influenced by relatives of this strange influence in the girl's life, Chief of Police Nickerson of Abington and State Detective Albert Broadhead of Whitman abandoned the search for Miss Dudley last night.

Chief Nickerson and Inspector Broadhead said unless some startling information came to them today they would accept the relative's version of Miss Dudley's disappearance.

According to Lawrence Dwyer, 74, Winthrop street, Brockton, the divorced husband of Miss Dudley, her mother, Mrs. Walter Dudley, as a psychic, was a strange influence since ever last.

"She disappeared several times before just as mysteriously," said her aunt, Miss Sarah Dudley of Brockton, "and each time she began to talk of her mother a couple of weeks before she went away."

HALF-FINISHED LETTER.

"I found a half-finished letter to her mother among her effects. It asked her mother to forward her copies of her divorce papers on the way to Washington. The letter broke off suddenly, just as if she felt her mother's influence pulling her home to her."

"We have wired her mother to be on the watch for her as Dorothy had enough money if she made up her mind to go to Tacoma to buy a ticket."

Purchase will hear of her breaking the spell of her mother's influence and going to work in some other town or city.

Ernest Briggs, Dorothy's affianced, still sticks to his story that she quarreled over Dorothy's inability to get her divorce papers before her marriage.

MAY BE IN HUB.

It was because Briggs would not go to Whitman to get married last Sunday night, the police say, that the couple quarreled. It ended, according to Briggs, when Dorothy asked away from him through a path in the woods toward another street light.

Whether the girl got a ride from a passing motorist to either Brockton or Abington, the police say, is a job in what the police expect a couple of days will determine.

GIRL QUITS MOTORS TO BECOME BRIDE

Miss Grace F. Gilson, executive secretary to Pres. G. B. Hendon of the Hendon Motor Company, identified with the automobile industry for ten years, will retire this week in preparation for her marriage to Edward J. Gilson of Columbus Day.

Miss Gilson is regarded as one of the best dressed women in the city on motor matters. The ceremony will be performed in St. Mark's Church, Dorchester.

Providence, Sept. 19.—Miss Edith V. Johnson of this city, first woman in the diplomatic service of her country, has been named Mexican Consul here, as announced by the State Department.

Miss Johnson was born on Rhode Island, studied in New York, and came to Providence as a child in 1903. She attended high school here and graduated from the Episcopal Convent of John the Baptist in New York in 1916.

HUB REGULAR HELD CHORUS BATTLE FOR PAY

Union Delegate, With Lacerated Ear, Says Baccolini Pulled a Knife

New York, Sept. 19.—"Promises—nothing but promises." That, says Frank Sherman, delegate of the Grand Opera Chorus Alliance, was the real cause for the trouble that started the Manhattan Opera House Friday night, when Sherman received a badly lacerated ear, 200 chorists of the Boston Civic Opera Company quit the opera.

"Norma" told, Clara Jacobs, a prima donna, and a musical director was arrested charged with felonious assault.

The director, Alberto Baccolini, was arrested before Magistrate Norris in Jefferson Market Court today. He is over 40 and has a long record.

After the show, he says he was told.

"Nothing doing," he retorted. Then along came Baccolini. Something happened. Just what, police court testimony is expected to show Sherman says Baccolini drew a knife.

"He swung at my heart," he asserted today as a doctor patched up his wound. "I ducked. The blade hit my ear. Seven stitches were put in it at Bellevue. And I was talking to him in Italian."

"But," replied Baccolini, "I studied him back, and he fell over an oak tree and cut his ear."

STARS SING CHORUS.

Baccolini pleaded not guilty to assault.

"Obviously a knife wound," asserted Dr. F. H. Gillespie, after he dressed Sherman's ear.

"All they did," asserted Sherman, "was to promise and promise that they would pay me what I am in promises. Or checks late at night? Seven dollars a day is all members of the chorus get—and they didn't get that."

The chorus ended its engagement here after a double session. "Rigoletto" was given in the afternoon and "Tosca" in the evening. The regular chorus was absent in both performances, members of the company met and sang songs and volunteered as chorus singers.

SOCIETY THRONES TOPSFIELD FAIR

Topsfield, Sept. 19.—A new version of the old-time country fair was witnessed here today at the closing of the Essex County Fair, which was the old familiar "horse and buggy" give away before handsome limousines and the quiet country folk step into the background before the dazzling offerings of society.

Thousands of people took advantage of the appearance of Old Sam and joined in today's program. Social leaders of the North Shore were present.

Not all of the old-time fair attractions faded before the array of social talent, however. The old "Army Game," the "Raker's row" and the Gate lamps were prominent.

Flower exhibits added to the beauty of the affair. House shows and automobile shows drew thousands.

The Myopia Hunt Club offered feature stunts and with the West Newbury Riding and Driving Club and Danvers Driving Club gave exhibitions in "Gym Klans." The West Newbury team was victorious. Essex firemen won first place in the muster. Salem was second.

STRIKING TAXI DRIVERS SPURN PEACE OFFERS

Company Consents to Buy Overcoats and Uniforms, but in Vain

Peace overtures were made to the several hundred striking Checker taxi drivers late yesterday, but they were refused flatly, and the strike, called in dramatic fashion in the early morning hours, went on.

In its peace message, the Checker Taxicab Company officials offered to buy all the uniforms and overcoats which incidentally started the trouble—and to pay thirty per cent, instead of twenty on money over $10 a day taken in by the drivers.

Refusing the offer, the men, who first declared the pay question did not enter into the controversy, did out for a nine-hour day instead of ten; a rate of $4 a day instead of $3, with no compensation for the hour and their recognition as union men.

STRIKE IS CALLED.

The Checker drivers, the only large group of taxicab men previously known to go on strike in dramatic fashion at 2 a. m. yesterday, Pedestrians and policemen were surprised to see a fleet of more than 100 cabs sweep into Charles street, where the drivers held a meeting.

After a few brief words by an unidentified speaker, the men roared approval, the crowd broke up, and the cabs rolled away to the Checker garage, where the strike was announced and the cabs put up.

At No. 955 Washington street, where the striking drivers gathered yesterday, it was explained that a recent company order requiring the men to pay out $35 for new liveries and overcoats precipitated the walk-out. Another grievance was an alleged pay system.

ORGANIZERS APPEAR.

Forty members employed in the garage walked out in sympathy yesterday.

Soon after the strikers gathered at No. 955 Washington street, H. T. Fitzgibbon of Roxbury, business agent of Local 125, "Teamsters," Chauffeurs and Stable Helpers' Union, also put in an appearance.

Fitzgibbon and the men characterized it as an "outcast" and "Dutch" Ku Klux Klan. Plain appeared as organizers.

KLAN LINKED WITH MYSTERY OF SLAIN MAN

Message in Cell Box of Sampson's Auto Said, "K.K.K. Made Me Do This"

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 19.—Through an amazing development the Ku Klux Klan was linked today with the death of John H. Sampson, 24, found dead in his coupe on the Beach Road near here Friday. Early in the day police received a mysterious note, County Detective J. B. Hise of Portsmouth County will not say in what manner or when the note came. It suggested, he said, that the detective look in the cell box of the coupe.

In the place indicated, which is very small, one found a small memorandum book, containing a message covering several pages and signed "John Sampson." The notebook was identified by his brother William, as having belonged to Sampson and both William and another brother identified the writing as that of John.

"K. K. K. MADE ME DO IT." "This is the message young Sampson sent, as he was about to die, to the authorities he knew would investigate."

"Pines do not blame Davis for doing anything wrong. He did his best to help us out. I did not do anything wrong except this. I tried to do everything I could to save everybody. I felt ambitious. I felt like doing everything myself. I did not like to play loose. The K. K. K. made me do this."

Notwithstanding this note, neither Sampson nor other officers working on the case are convinced the case was one of suicide. They still cling to the murder theory.

PARTNER QUESTIONED. Young Sampson had a partner and a partner's name was Davis. The farm, owned by the Klans of Bedford, Keamsburg and Keyport jointly, Sampson had two partners, C. Bedford Davis and Albert Northcott. Davis is believed to be the man found in the note Sampson left. The police questioned him. He denied belonging to the Klan and insisted the partner had no trouble.

Northcott, police say, admitted belonging to the Klan. They say, too, he admitted trying to get Sampson to join the Klan. Sampson refused to join the Klan.

SOMERVILLE NOW HAS 14,632 PUPILS. Enrollment of the public schools of Somerville shows 14,632 pupils, according to returns made to Superintendent Davis and Albert Northcott. This is an increase of 200 over the number of pupils last year.

After four nights among lawbreakers in Charles Street Jail, Dr. Emily Clark MacLeod, one of Boston's best-known women physicians, whose Near East Relief work won world-wide recognition, was freed yesterday by an aged Prince Charming, who refused to make known his identity.

He appeared at the jail shortly after noon, told Chief Clerk Morris he was a friend of Dr. MacLeod, and asked that the bill, for non-payment of which she was imprisoned, be totaled and all costs paid.

The letter carried him a statement for $124, owed Fred J. Brier, West Roxbury plumber, and costs, making the total $109.65.

This aged Prince Charming paid Dr. MacLeod was brought down from her cell by two officers and released. She walked away from the jail with her rescuer.

SENATE TO PROBE "PLOT" IN ARMY

yourself, who is in a position to bring the matter to the attention of the Secretary of War in a way that will cause the subject to receive the serious and effective consideration it deserves.

MRS. "BILLY" HART.

"I do not wish to bring the service into unpleasant notoriety, especially at this time when certain elements in the country are hostile to the military. If it can possibly be avoided, as I think it could, by the removal by the War Department of the present quartermaster-general of the army, Major General William H. Hart."

Mrs. Pomroy then described an alleged meeting with Mrs. Teresa Dean, who wrote under the name of "The Widow." In a weekly society magazine, Mrs. Pomroy said she was invited by Mrs. Dean to the latter's New York apartment, at East 58th street, to "meet 'Billy' Hart," as she called him, the colonel in charge of the New York quartermaster depot, who had been a captain in the old quartermaster department in which her husband, Captain Frederick H. Pomroy, had served. The latter, General Rogers' appointment as quartermaster-general.

"I met Colonel Hart at dinner that evening and also saw him on some of the other occasions that I subsequently visited the apartment of Mrs. Dean, with whom he seemed to be on most cordial and friendly terms, addressing her as 'Billy' and always calling him 'Billy'."

On one of her first visits to Mrs. Dean, according to the letters, "the widow" said to Mrs. Pomroy: "I am engaged on some very interesting and important work for 'Billy' Hart; he's crying for 'get' Rogers."

"GETTING" ROGERS.

The plan, according to Mrs. Dean's version, as quoted in Mrs. Pomroy's letter, was "to discuss General Rogers with the War Department and others through a series of attacks upon him through the columns" of the society weekly, "thereby to get 'General Rogers' re-appointed as quartermaster-general."

General Rogers "out of the way," according to Mrs. Pomroy's description of the plan, "Colonel Hart would have a good chance of being appointed quartermaster-general for the next year, and the senior colonels of the Quartermaster Corps, but he was also on the general staff eligible list, and had made a big reputation for himself with the War Department by saving the government lots of money at the "Star War Army Base."

The letter continued: "Mrs. Dean also told me that Colonel Hart had threatened himself into the good graces of General Rogers, the divorced wife of General Rogers, as was to get from her as much information as possible about Gen. Rogers, which information he passed on to her for use in her articles attacking General Rogers."

Mrs. Dean said that Colonel Hart dined with her twice every evening in her apartment, as it would be unwise for him to be seen with her in public while his articles attacking General Rogers, his commanding officer, were appearing.

"He said he was afraid that if he was seen in public with her the War Department would 'get onto him,' as Mrs. Dean expressed it, and that on account of the nature of the work which he was doing he would be ruined."

"Mrs. Dean told me she once said to Colonel Hart 'Billy Hart. I have never written such venomous things as you are demanding that I write about Rogers,' and that Colonel Hart replied: 'Why, Tensie, if we succeed, aren't you going to get as much out of this as I am?'

SOCIETY FLOCKS TO NO. SHORE LEGION BAZAAR

Brilliant Throng—at Leon E. Abbot Post Fair at Swampscott

Scores of pretty girls presided over fancy work and food booths at the bazaar conducted at Deer Cove Inn grounds in Swampscott yesterday in aid of Leon E. Abbot Post, American Legion.

The bazaar, which was one of the leading social events of the season on the North Shore, included many novel features. A tea, a dance, a treasure hunt, novelty sales and a musical were among the offerings of the committee in charge of arrangements.

The hundreds who attended were disappointed by the inability of Princess Canticus to be present. She was to have assisted Mrs. Curtis Guild in serving tea. Mrs. Guild was director of the tea dance.

One of the interesting features of the day was the presentation of a program of songs by Miss-Miss's Blockade of Swampscott who sang in memory of her brother who was killed in France.

Booths spread throughout the grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns and gaily colored lanterns were also strung over the "midway."

Miss Mabel Long of Framingham and Mrs. Charles Francis Adams were in charge of the Brookside Stores booth. Mrs. Charles Lloyd Baxter presented the tea and coffee used at the affair. Roscoe H. Prior planned the decorations.

One of the most humorous costumes was worn by P. H. Murray, of No. 9 Grove street, West Somerville.

Throughout the program Lieut. H. Allen Durkee, commander of the Leon E. Abbot Post, assisted the girls in making a success of the affair.

Boy Scouts turned out in large numbers for the Boy Scout booth.

KATHERINE MUIR and Betty Outler, presiding at the candy table at bazaar in aid of Leon E. Abbot Post, American Legion, at Deer Cove Inn, Swampscott.

BIRDS GUARDED IN NEW SANCTUARIES

The achievements of the Federation of Bird Clubs in 1924 and 1925, made public yesterday revealed several birds have in the State, where hunters are barred and where birds are assured permanent sanctuary.

Among the activities was the purchase of Ram Island, off Mattapoisett, presentation to the State of Cur Island off Newburyport, and the barring of hunters off Smith's Point, an island off Nantucket.

HARVARD OPENS NEW ADMINISTRATION HALL

The new Harvard administration building was unofficially opened yesterday by the removal to it of the bureau's office, which has been housed temporarily in an old house near Memorial Hall.

The new building occupies the site of old Dane Hall, on Harvard street. It was constructed through the efforts of Arthur Lehman of New York and will be known as Lehman Hall.

SOCIETY SEES MISS BIGELOW RADIANT BRIDE

Marries Theodore Lyman Elliot of Cambridge at Brilliant Ceremony in Brookline

Society was largely represented yesterday at the brilliant wedding, in the First Parish Church, Brookline, of Miss Martha Bigelow, lovely member of Boston's younger smart set to Theodore Lyman Elliot, Harvard, 1924.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Bigelow of Warren street, Brookline. The bridegroom, son of Rev. Samuel A. Elliot and Mrs. Elliot of Cambridge, belongs to that distinguished Cambridge family of which Charles W. Elliot, president-elect of Harvard University, is the dean.

The bride's father gave her in marriage, in the late afternoon, in a church exquisitely decorated with masses of Autumn flowers and greenery. There were two officiating clergymen, Rev. Abbot Peterson of the First Parish Church, and the bridegroom's father.

PICTURE OF BEAUTY
A picture of radiant beauty, the bride was robed in gleaming white satin adorned with priceless old French lace, of gossamer texture and beaming for many years in her family. Her attendants wore French frocks of a delicate green, built of chiffon.

Their hair, very wide, and in the picture made, were made of rich black velvet. They carried arm bouquets of var-colored cosmos.

A party of pretty girls walked with the bride to the altar while she said her vows. They were practically all of her coming-out year—Miss Mary Otis, Miss Ruth Bremer, Miss Margaret Richardson, Miss Hannah Hallock, Miss Mary Hopkinson, Miss Edith Parker, Miss Margaret Warner and Mrs. Leighton Brewer.

MARTHA BIGELOW made a lovely picture yesterday as bride of Theodore Lyman Elliot.

(Helen Hamlin, herself a bride of last June.

Miss Gladys Bigelow, younger sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

The bridegroom drew on Harvard classmates for his staff and had Lowell Thompson of Cambridge as best man.

The ushers included brothers of both the bride and bridegroom—Albert S. Bigelow, 24, from London; Hugh W. Bigelow, Charles W. Elliot, 24, and Thomas H. Elliot.

BRILLIANT GATHERING.
Other ushers were William H. Griswold, Jr., New York; Perry D. Trufford, Short Hills, New Jersey; John P. Hubbard, Charles Walcott, Charles Dunbar and George P. Baker, all local men.

After the church ceremonial there was a large and brilliant reception at the Warren street, Brookline, home of the bride's parents.

at the Warren street, Brookline, home of the bride's parents.

Both the young people are prominent in youthful smart set circles of Boston. The bride belongs to the Vincent Club and the Junior League, and the bridegroom, graduating from Harvard in 1924, belongs to many of the exclusive college clubs, the Institute of 1776, Hasty Pudding, Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot are to live in New York, and will be at home after October at No. 44 West 16th street.

THORPE TO LEAD FORD ORCHESTRA

Head of World Famous Musicians

world millions of radio listeners. Mr. Ford said yesterday Thorpe's musical education might at first be lacking for the leadership of such an orchestra. With the possibilities of the orchestra being broadcast to listening millions from the Weyburn, leadership would be most exacting.

But if Thorpe's release on parole could be effected, Mr. Ford said he stood ready to have the best musical talent in the country pass on Thorpe and if they found him sufficiently talented, the Ford millions would be behind his obtaining a sound foundation for his musicianship.

Mr. Ford has become genuinely interested in Thorpe's case. He said he had received reports that Thorpe's killing of a Pullitzer taxi driver was done in the heat of passion and without premeditation.

He believes that Thorpe, who has already done seven years of his term, must be found to have been punished enough. He said he had instructed his representative here in New York to find out what if anything could be done about effecting Thorpe's release. Mr. Ford said he was not unmindful of Thorpe's lonesome mother who flashed into the picture yesterday night when it was announced a life would pay the "Salut d'Armour" for his aged mother sitting listening down in Fall River.

Mr. Ford's plans include a reunion of Thorpe's father and mother with the son provided everything goes well with the plans for release on parole. Mr. Ford spent yesterday at Weyburn in inspecting the various improvements making on the estate. Yesterday morning he took a horseback ride throughout the nearby roads and lanes.

Later he motored over to Framingham to say hello to some of the friends he had as guests at his Weyburn farm where a couple of winters ago.

FRESH CHANCE TO SHARE PART OF $25,000

books—there are many sensible ways of investing so much money.

OTHER PRIZES TO GET.

True enough that there is only one First Prize, only one award of $25,000, but there are plenty of other prizes worth striving for. Prizes of $1,000, $500, $250, $150, five prizes of $50 each, fifty prizes of $25 each and 2,100 prizes of lesser amount.

All for what? All for putting some pictures of great Americans together correctly and identifying them properly.

Turn, now, to the great double page of "Game of War Heroes" pictures. Read there the simple and careful statement of exactly what is expected of the contestant. As the originator of this patriotic, educational and entertaining "Game of War Heroes" explains the test:

Every week for twelve weeks the Boston Sunday Advertiser will print three composite pictures of war heroes the "Battle of Britain" each set of pictures, when cut apart and put together correctly, will make complete portraits of American War Heroes. Every one is invited to assemble the pictures and send them to the War Hero Contest Editor of this newspaper.

A total of thirty-six (36) composite pictures will be printed in twelve sets of three pictures each. One set to be published each week. Hold all the pictures until you have the complete set of thirty-six. Then send them to the War Hero Contest Editor.

Please read, on the contest page, the few simple rules which have been drawn up for the guidance of contestants. Observe, below each of the "problem" pictures, in very black type, the "clues" which the author of the "Game of War Heroes" has generously devised for you. We do not know how they were going to work out in Milwaukee, Detroit and Chicago, but here on the patriotic soil of old New England these "clues," in at least a great many instances, will almost lead the contestant by the hand and lead him straight to a correct identification! This money, $25,000 in gold, MUST be won! IT WILL be paid!

EMPLOYEES ARE BARRED.

It cannot be won by any employee of this newspaper, or by an employee of any other newspaper publication, or by any member of their families. These are the only readers barred from taking part in the "Game of War Heroes."

Come in! Get busy! Begin today! Take and take good care of it! The first two sets of pictures. Here you have one-sixth of the entire contest. CAN you identify them? If you can, if you are quite certain, the rest of the contest should not be so very difficult.

The rules, the directions the double page of pictures, tell the whole story. The $25,000 "Game of War Heroes" is wide open to every reader of the Boston Sunday Advertiser. Woman, boy and girl. You need not register your name. There is no occasion for a letter to ing the week, according to an exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today.

The arrest of Communists is described as "a precautionary measure" by the Italian government, the dispatch said.

One hundred and seventy Communists were arrested between midnight and noon today in Rome. Large numbers of arrests have been made in Florence, Palma and Messina.

the Contest Editor. There are no fees or charges to pay. You are not asked to obtain subscriptions to the paper. There is NOTHING to be lost, in fact, except cut and saw and identify the War Heroes.

Another set of pictures will be printed next Sunday. In the meantime, it will be well and wise and most judicious to say a word to your regular newspaper or newsboy. Tell him you are taking part in the great $25,000 "Game of War Heroes."

Explain how necessary it is that you should have the paper each week. Explain how necessary it is that you should have the paper each week. Explain how necessary it is that you should have the paper each week.

Take no chances. Make no mistakes. Go to your regular newspaper at once and say to him, "I am taking part in the Game of War Heroes. If possible, I mean to win that $25,000. Do your part."

"Have a Boston Sunday Advertiser for the next week until further notice."

PICKWICK HERO TO BE REPEATED ON WEDNESDAY

Fireman Doyle to Be Presented
Boston Evening American's
Diamond Medal

On next Wednesday noon the people of Boston will have an opportunity of shaking hands with the bravest man in the Boston fire department—Luttermann, Edward F. Doyle of East Boston—when there is presented the Boston Evening American's Diamond Medal for valor.

This opportunity to meet the hero of the Pickwick Club disaster and shake his hand will be given at the Parkman Band Stand, Boston Common, at the conclusion of the decoration exercises.

Next Wednesday's exercises will begin at 12 o'clock with a band concert by one of the leading organizations of this city.

The presentation exercises themselves will begin promptly at 12:30 o'clock, when James T. Williams, Jr., editor of the Boston Evening American, will call the gathering together.

As temporary chairman he will talk briefly on "Why We Are Here," and then will introduce Alfred Davenport, former president of the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, as permanent chairman.

Mr. Davenport is chairman of the medal committee of five which represented the readers of the Boston Evening American in awarding the Diamond Medal.

He will then introduce Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn. Mr. Davenport will next introduce Mayor Curley, who will pin the diamond medal on Luttermann Doyle, and after "Larry" has said his thanks, Mayor Curley will award $100 gold to Doyle's wife, Mrs. Alice (Shewitt) Doyle, on behalf of the Boston Evening American.

CITY LEADERS NOW TURNING TO O'CONNOR

Ex-School Committee Man
Favored as Compromise
Candidate for Mayor

By THOMAS F. FEEHAN.
From an authoritative source yesterday it was learned that Charles A. O'Connor, former School Committee member, will be the compromise candidate of the Democratic City Committee for Mayor if regulations for his endorsement by the Good Government Association fall.

He is reported to be favored by Martin M. Lonsberry and other leaders as the most logical candidate. In the last Mayoralty contest, with Mayor Curley and John R. Murphy in the field, O'Connor polled close to 11,000 votes, and this without organization or anything like a campaign fund.

O'Connor declared yesterday that his candidacy depends in a large measure on the position taken by Judge Edward L. Logan and Ex-Mayor John P. Fitzgerald.

Political circles are puzzled as Judge Logan and ex-Mayor Fitzgerald withhold their endorsement as candidates under their own signatures. Friends of each say they are friendly, tied up with the same interests, and cannot afford to jeopardize each other's success at the polls as opponents.

Because of this it is feared that the O'Connor candidacy is meeting with favor. Lonsberry refuses to comment on the mayoralty situation, though it is said he is for O'Connor as the man to make the fight against Malcolm E. Nichols, chief of the Republican City Machine in the event that General Logan or former Mayor Fitzgerald fail to enter the race.

Fire Commissioner Glynn will open his campaign for Mayor Monday night at the corner of Chadwick and Hampden streets, Roxbury, near the store where he appeared daily in a butcher frock and sold provisions and milk to residents of the Curley ward.

"MISS AMERICA" is still smiling, though faced with possible court action by M. L. Jacobs, who says he was her manager. He complains he gave up his business to handle her affairs, and now Miss Lamphier has signed with a motion picture company.

Thomas Seeks Council Seat

A candidate with an unusual platform is Frank J. Thomas, who aspires to the Boston City Council from Ward 18. Mr. Thomas, at present, Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Massachusetts, says:

"I am not going to make any promises for promises are easily made and even more easily broken. The reduction in taxation is the improvement of our district, the knowledge of municipal finance, and the betterment of the district by the voters of the district."

Born in Boston in 1889, Mr. Thomas is an executive man. He lives with his wife and two children at 10 Oak avenue, Neponset. In 1924 he was a candidate for the Legislature from the 15th Suffolk District.

SUPER-THRILL FILM TO HAVE PREMIER TODAY

Amazing International News
Reel Picture to Be Seen
Here for First Time

Life's greatest thrills are encountered in strange places. The other day, for instance, a gang of street urchins, not content with robbing a passerby, attacked a man who was carrying a large suitcase. The man, however, was not a victim, but a hero. He was a member of the "Black Legion," a secret organization of criminals. He was a member of the "Black Legion," a secret organization of criminals. He was a member of the "Black Legion," a secret organization of criminals.

The motion picture entertainment, atop the building showing International Newsreels, remarkable picture, "Life's Greatest Thrills," had been especially arranged for them. Just for the purpose of seeing what dare-devils would consider not thrills.

For twelve years International Newsreel cameramen have been scouring the four corners of the earth for motion pictures in which thrills predominate—not the daring things alone, but scenes of extreme beauty or action that serve to arouse the enthusiasm of the spectators to the highest pitch.

Some months ago the editors of International Newsreel decided to select from the amazing accumulation of the world's most interesting and widely-commented-upon pictures which have appeared in their issues during that time, a score of the most remarkable of them, and issue them as a super-thriller—a thriller of thrills. That picture has just been completed, and will have its premier in Boston today, when it will be seen in leading theatres of the city.

One of the most amazing of the collection of thrilling thrills is the almost unbelievable exploit of Sergeant Randall Bone of the U. S. Army Flying Force, who dropped through space from an airplane a distance of 3,500 feet before he pulled the cord that released the parachute that saved him from being dashed to pieces.

Since time immemorial, the faithful throughout the world have dreamed of seeing the Pope and of what that almost mythical place, the Vatican, looked like. It was an International Newsreel cameraman, who, after two years of preparation, was given permission to enter the Vatican, there to photograph for the first time the wonders of the place, and the wonder of wonders, the Pope.

This permission was granted by the late Benedict XVI.

STUDENT GOES CALLING IN HIS BIRTHDAY SUIT

Ring on Finger Enough Attire
for Williams College
Freshman

North Adams, Sept. 19.—Some of the best college fashion dictators ran all out of direction today when it became known that the code of "What the Men Are Wearing" had been revised to include merely a finger ring or two for late evening and early morning informal calls.

It was a freshman from Williams College, of course. No upper classman would bother to observe the niceties of convention and remove the outer clothing at night, let alone the inner.

But the freshman was one of the four out of five whose best friends would not tell him and last night he journeyed from the college town five miles away, to North Adams and surrounded himself with liquor.

TABLES ARE TURNED
Some time later he had turned neatly—in a word, instead of the liquor surrounding him, he was surrounded by the liquor.

The evening became a bit hazy here, as evenings sometimes will, and the freshman, a weary traveler from afar, found himself in the late night alone at the end of a street which seemed to have no exit.

Again and again he attempted to bore his way through the impenetrable and, stubborn in the belief that every street has two ends.

LOVE POEMS IN BALM SUIT WIN WIFE'S SMILES

Ardent "My Heart and I"
Read in Court as Girl
Seeks $100,000

New York, Sept. 19.—While his wife sat by and smiled occasionally, the poems of Walter James, 68, usually retired graduate engineer, in which he poured forth his love for Miss Eretta W. Bauer, divorcee of New Rochelle, were read to a jury bearing a $100,000 reward of promise suit brought by Miss Bauer, James, but his temper several times when the poems and letters were specially fervent and left the courtroom in a rage. His wife only smiled. Miss Bauer and Mrs. James smiled at each other coldly as the burning letters and poems were being read by counsel for the girl.

On the witness stand her second day, Miss Bauer testified she met James at her sister's house in New Rochelle, and consented to marry him on December 31, 1923. He gave her many presents, including an emerald ring set in platinum and a string of pearls that "cost two dollars like a fool, tore them up."

Burned Hunting in Closet With Flaming Candle

A FLIMSY nightgown, blowing against a lighted candle she carried while searching in a closet, may cost the life of Mrs. Blanche Miner, fifty-five, a widow, of No. 755 Washington street.

Mrs. Miner was found unconscious on the floor of her flat by Mrs. Minnie Weather-ell, who lives in the same house. The terribly burned woman was rushed to the City Hospital, where it was said she could not live.

She admitted under cross-examination that she had told James she had visited Atlantic City with Charles Hauselman. She said James represented himself as a single man.

Two former servants in the Bauer household testified that they heard James call the divorcee "His Wild Irish Rose."

"I am an English subject and I can call myself a baron if I like," James said yesterday when asked for a statement.

"I am under oath to Sir Harry Gloucester, the British consul. This woman wrote me many letters but I like a fool, tore them up."

MISS HOUGHTON RINEHART'S BRIDE

South Dartmouth, Sept. 18.—Famous names were linked today in a beautiful setting when Miss Gratia Rinehart Houghton, niece of Alan Rinehart, American Ambassador to the Court of St. James, and Alan Gillespie Rinehart, son of Mary Roberts Rinehart, became bride and bridegroom.

In the hall of the St. Aidan's Chapel, on the Houghton Summer estate, "The Meadows," the young couple were married before a distinguished social audience by the Rev. Dr. Wilson R. Sterry, Bishop of Newark, N. J. Assisting at the ceremony was the Rev. John M. Cronin, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, New Bedford.

In the lush garden surrounding the big house, the reception was given, but the wedding breakfast, served in the afternoon, was in the mansion.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Amory Houghton, made her debut two years ago in Berlin, where her uncle then was stationed as Ambassador to Germany. Last Winter she was presented at the Court of St. James. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Rinehart, and while his mother is a distinguished author, his father is just as distinguished a surgeon.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Marion Gordon Tully, her cousin, and the bridesmaids were Matilda Houghton, her sister; Alice Minnie Tully, a cousin, who was presented last May at the Court of St. James; Helen Sterry of Newark, N. J.; Louise Ireland, Elizabeth Parker and Frances Dunn McKee of Washington, D. C.; Barbara Burns of Omaha, Neb., and Lindsey Beach of Rochester, N. Y.

THRILLS IN FIGHT FOR U. S. TITLE

Tilden Beats Johnston In Tennis Clash That Has Vast Throng Thrilled to the End

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 19 (N.Y. Times).—William T. Tilden became national champion lawn tennis singles this afternoon for the sixth successive year, a new championship record, by beating his ar rival, Billy Johnston, in the final round. The scores were 4-6, 11-9, 6-2, 4-6 and 6-3.

Tilden scored by superior endurance rather than superior skill. Johnston, in fact, played the champion into the ground on many occasions, but lacked the finishing touch to the fifth and decided set.

It was the fifth time in six attempts that Tilden had beaten Johnston in the final round. Billy setting his lone victory in 1919.

JOHNSTON WINS TONS. Johnston won the loss and began service. A net by Tilden off service gave the Californian the first point. Two more errors by the champion made it 40 love. Tilden then drove out of court and Johnston was a love game.

Two sets by Johnston staked Tilden to a lead of 20 love in the second. Mutual errors made it 40-15. Whereupon Johnston lobbed over the champion's head to make it 40-30 and it became duce when Tilden drove under the lines. The champion won the game on an error and a clean service ace.

Johnston satisfied himself at the net and volleyed prettily at the start of the third game but Tilden finally passed him for a spectacular ace.

Then Billy obliged with three errors and lost on service. Tilden took the lead at 2-1.

Prolonged exchanges from the baseline marked the fourth game. Johnston being slightly the steadier to gain a lead of fifteen thirty. He caught Tilden running the wrong way for a clean ace. Tilden's reply was an ace from service, but a net lost him the game and it went to 3-1.

CROWD GOES WILD. The crowd went wild when Johnston, after exchanging shot for shot with Tilden, came to the net and volleyed the champion's drive for an ace and a lead of 40-10 in the fifth. An error by the champion then made it a love victory and gave Johnston the lead at 3-2.

With the score 15 all on errors in the sixth, Johnston again aces Tilden with a blazing right-hander and finally went into a lead of 30-40 as each failed to keep the ball in the court. Tilden followed with a double fault and lost the game, Johnston leading at 4-2.

In spite of Johnston's great forehand that almost tore the racquet from the champion's hand at the end of the fifth, Johnston had got a lead of 15-40 on errors and then won the game when Billy's drive failed over the barrier.

Stenroos Sets U.S. Record for Hour

By PETER KELLEY
Albin Stenroos broke the American record for one hour at the dedication of the new Melrose athletic field yesterday. The Olympic Marathon champion ran 10 miles and 1,637 yards in the sixty minutes and cracked Charley Pore's record of 10 miles, 1,492 yards, made six years ago.

He failed by 2554 yards to equal the mark he made on his first race in this country, that at the Yankee stadium, May 25, 1915, when he was timed with 11 miles 113 yards for 60 minutes.

Stenroos would have broken the record he made at New York if the new track was shorter. But the foot was soft, and the Finn distance star did not do as well as he will if he runs in such a race over the same course next fall.

DE MAR BEATEN HALFWAY. Clarence De Mar of the Melrose Post of the American Legion, the Finn's rival for long distance honors, was beaten almost a half-mile. Stenroos was only a few yards behind De Mar when the race ended and had a good time.

The citizens of Melrose, the city in all interested deserve congratulations. The athletic field is a beautiful arena, and more than 8,000 spectators were present at the height of the dedication festivities.

The track was measured properly and constructed in the correct manner, but was not achieved that first news that will come with incessant rain and a few more.

Stenroos displayed splendid form. He ran better than in any of his other local exhibitions, sweated less, and naturally did not tire. He failed to set the pace only for a few laps when he went to the front and never was headed.

54 MILES IN 30 MINUTES. He ran five and a half miles to the stop in 30 minutes and did eight and a quarter miles for 45 minutes. There will be no question of the record for Edward E. Babb, a distinguished Maine citizen and former president of the A. A. U., was referee and the watches were held by the Finn's rival for long distance honors, was beaten almost a half-mile. Stenroos was only a few yards behind De Mar when the race ended and had a good time.

NEW RECORD BY HENIGAN

Jimmy Henigan, veteran middle distance runner, achieved a feat he had sought to accomplish in all his years of running when he broke the world's record for 15 miles at the Weymouth K. of C. outing under ideal weather conditions, coupled with keen competition, enabled the Dorchester glazier in setting up the new mark of 1:05.44 seconds.

Gun O'Neill of the Dorchester Club and Malcolm Burwell of East Weymouth pushed Henigan from the crack of the gun to the first lap. Henigan's five-foot, muscular build and his powerful legs were in evidence as he ran the race only for a few laps when he went to the front and never was headed.

WATERTOWN IS BLAZED

MALDEN WINNER 25 TO 0

Visitors Outplay Batchelder's Eleven, but Fumbles Are Reason for Their Defeat

By taking advantage of every break, the Malden 'High football team' opened their season at the Pearl St. stadium, yesterday, with a 25 to 0 win over Jack Macdonald's Watertown team. A crowd of about 6,000 witnessed the game.

While Malden could not do much against the Watertown line, their ability to convert their opponents' mistakes into scores proved to be enough to win.

Malden scored first in the opening minute of the second period after Watertown fumbled and Hirtle recovered across the goal line for a touchdown. Callahan failed to kick the goal.

Malden made the next score near the end of the period. Malden recovered another Watertown three on the latter team's 50-yard line. Hirtle, a forward from Malden, to Callahan gained 20 yards. Malden then shifted the Watertown right end for a touchdown. Callahan failed to kick the goal.

In the third period, with the ball on the 40-yard line, Mangum threw a perfect pass to Callahan, who pulled the ball out of the air and ran thirty yards for the third score. Mangum dropped the extra point into the score.

The Blue and Gold scored their final points in the end of the third period. Mangum punted from his own 40-yard line to Garrett and when the latter player fumbled on his own 40-yard line, Smith, the Malden center, picked up the ball on the dead run and ran thirty yards for a score. Callahan failed for the third time on the attempt at goal.

The great work of the Malden ends down the field under punts, especially Callahan, who was the best punter on the field, and the brilliant defensive play of Capt. Packard on the line for Watertown were the outstanding features of the game.

Watertown showed a stubborn defense, their line outplaying Malden completely in the first half, but the mistakes of their backfield nullified the good work of the forwards.

BRAVEN ON HARVARD VARSITY

Former Andover Captain Wins His Spurs on Gridiron—Crimson in Signal Drills

By TED LYNCH.

As a relaxation for his gridders, Head Coach Bob Fisher had only one practice session at Harvard yesterday, his short session, which was made up largely on signal drill, brought to a close the most strenuous opening week in the history of Harvard football.

When the athletes reported at the locker building yesterday morning, it was announced that George Braden had been promoted to the varsity squad. Braden is a back who has been in the first team for two years. He is a former Andover captain and is a good placement kicker.

At 10 o'clock Capt. Dolph Cheek led his Crimson jerseyed team to the enclosed field. The players appeared in crimson and light cotton stock-ings, because of the tired feet caused by the hard work of the week.

Bradman, who is an end, has a slightly sprained ankle, while the Crimson kicker had a wrenched knee. The players were drilled by Coach Fisher and his assistants.

Trainer Eddie Parrott took the squad in hand for the usual day's work. The players were drilled by Coach Fisher and his assistants.

100,000 Attend Ajax Openings

Over 100,000 people have thronged the mile from the four corners of the country to view initial showings of the new Nash-built car. Public interest in the Ajax six, according to reports received by the factory from dealers, far eclipses anything that has been anticipated. Initial showings at new points are being made each week in accordance with increased production by the factory.

Alex dealers, in letters and telegrams to the factory, report out-of-control admiration for the car by visitors who have seen it for the first time, while buyers, many of whom have driven the Ajax thousands of miles, unite in declaring its performance under all road conditions is beyond even what they had anticipated. In New York City 4,446 visited the showrooms for the Ajax opening the first three days, while in Los Angeles 75,413 people inspected the new Ajax models in the first eight days after the announcement. Boston, Grand Rapids, New Orleans, Minneapolis, Seattle, Portland, and in fact all of the cities where the Ajax has been announced, report overwhelming attendance and record-breaking sales.

Cost of Highways

The average price of a mile of concrete roadway, with an 18-foot pavement and 7 inches thick, is $30,000.

CLEVELAND SIX DROPS 15 P. C.

Reductions of $200 Made on Several Models; New Special Six Sedan Introduced

"Cleveland Six prices on its sedan have been dropped practically 15 and 17 per cent," said Fred A. Howe on his return from the big convention at Cleveland where the policies for 1926 were outlined.

"Our executives figured out that as long as we were able to reduce costs it should be a real one. So they cut $200 off the price of each sedan. The regular four-door sedan, formerly $1195, is now $995 and the $1195 special 4-door sedan is $1095.

"At the convention last week there was an artificial enthusiasm. The men from the four corners of the country had been doing a very nice business with their Cleveland Six line. The car had made such wonderful records in speed, endurance and hill climbing that it had won universal attention.

"Backed by exceptional performance in the hands of owners, it achieved even personal advancement when people met and talked motor cars. All this had its reaction with the factory, for orders piled in to keep the big plant busy and that meant volume production with overhead cut down.

"This has now been passed along to the buyers. It is all the result of careful planning and giving the best value for the money. It is all the result of careful planning and giving the best value for the money. It is all the result of careful planning and giving the best value for the money.

"The most important of all factors," says Mr. Abbott, "is the fact that the average motor car buyer believes that right now he can obtain the best value for his money. The best engineers and experts agree that this is so. With this firm belief in his mind, the motor car buyer is obeying his impulse to buy the car which he may have been considering for years.

Auto Sales and Production Continue at Record Clip

AUTO INDUSTRY NOW GREATEST IN COUNTRY

General Motors Operating at

Detroit, Sept. 19.—Since achieving the distinction less than a year ago of becoming the greatest industry of the country, the automobile business has stepped out to establish new records nearly every month to support the statement made recently by the United States Department of Commerce that the motor industry is the ranking business of the nation.

Through September and succeeding months of this year may show a small seasonal decline in production, prospects are that several of the leading producers will establish new output marks.

General Motors plants are operating at the greatest clip in the history of the corporation. Sales of General Motors cars to the public in August totalled 76,546, which tops by 20,000 the best August that the great Detroit organization ever enjoyed.

125 CARS PER DAY.
Cadillac is building 125 cars daily and striving to attain 135; Buick is at capacity; Chevrolet is steering along at the same record pace that has kept its plants busy for the last six months. Oakland is turning thousands of untitled orders. Despite the fact that the Fisher Body Corporation is making more than 1,000 closed bodies a day—the greatest pace ever—it is having difficulty in keeping pace with the orders that are pouring into General Motors' show rooms. Evidence of the demand at the Olds factory in Lansing is the fact that every department is working over time. Olds' plants are working on the greatest September production and sales schedule in the 27 years' history of the company. More than 8,000 sedans and coaches alone will be built this month if production arrangements permit.

Austin Motors of England is definitely off. General Motors may take steps to go into the production of a "sequel" car of its own design, to be built in General Motors assembly plant in London, near London, England. The plant has 125,000 square feet of floor space and has an assembly capacity of 150 cars in an eight hour day or 145,000 a year.

TO MEET BRITISH DEMAND.

No official statement of the matter could be obtained at the office here, although it is confidently expected that American automobile makers who hope to succeed in European markets must meet the British and European demand in the way of cars—which is for a small, seven or eight horse power car to cope with the narrow roads and the almost prohibitive horse power tax abroad. An instance of the severity of the tax is the fact that the tax on a Chevrolet would be approximately $100.

Auburn Completes

Largest Week

The Auburn Automobile Company has just completed the biggest week in the history of the Company according to B. L. Cord, vice-president and general manager.

Production has averaged 80 cars per day for the past week, which is a 15 per cent. increase over any previous production.

Olds Motor Works

Going Overtime

Every department of the Olds Motor Works has been placed on overtime in order to step up production to meet the big demand for the new series D cars recently announced, factory officials report. This month opened with the greatest production and sales for any September in the 27 years' history of Olds.

Actual deliveries to car purchasers paralleled factory production. Dealers report Oldsmobiles are being sold as quickly as received, and advance orders for October and November deliveries insure that the factory will be kept at peak production.

MODERN MOTOR HIGHLY RELIABLE

Lugs of PN-9 No. 1 and of Shenandoah Show Packard
Engines Working Perfectly

Reliability of the modern high-speed gasoline motor of great power has been brought forcibly to the attention of the world in the last few days.

In his personal story of the great special flight of the PN 9 No. 1, which for days claimed the attention of the entire world, Commander John Rodgers said "The engine worked perfectly and there were no signs of leaks or any other trouble."

Across more than 1500 miles of the open Pacific ocean the two 600 horse power Packard motors of the big flying boat roared without once missing an explosion for more than 25 hours, hurling ten tons of plane, men and gasoline through the air at 80 miles an hour. Only when the forces of nature upset the calculations of men with head winds that called for greater power and the consequent use of more gasoline did the great plane come to a halt. The motors ran right up to the time the last drop of gasoline was exhausted and went dead together. Commander Rodgers commented on the "total expenditure of gasoline."

While a whole world waited and prayed during the ten-day search of the ocean waters for Commander Rodgers and his gallant crew, four other equally brave heroes of the U. S. Navy were playing their trust with confidence born of many successfully met grueling tests in still other engines designed and built by automobile engineers and artisans in the plant of the Packard Motor Car Company.

How marred was this trust is shown in practically the last unfinished sentence in the log of the last and tragic flight of the Navy's great ship, the Shenandoah. "Commander orders cars in changing course, all engine working perfectly," reads the log.

Who's Who in Boston's Motordom

D-444 is the next number on the license plate program of cars.

Not so long ago barehous the words Rolls-Royce were but a name. True it is they represented perfection in automotive engineering, but they stood for an intangible abstraction—for something accomplished on the other side of the world, which we of this hemisphere rarely if ever saw.

Not so today. Today Rolls-Royce still means perfection, but perfection in concrete form, in the shape of a darned good automobile seen often in our midst.

A condition due to Rolls-Royce manufacturers, engineers, distributors and J. Roy Hill.

Five years ago Roy started selling Rolls-Royce in this territory, and, although they're not become as frequent as the well-known popular orders cars in changing course, all engine working perfectly," reads the log.

into this neck of the woods and put it across.

Quite a man-sized job. We New Englanders have a way of queuing our nickels. Only the inherent worth of the car and the ability and perseverance of the man ever brought the stunt about.

When J. Roy isn't working, and that's rarely, you'll probably find him down on Carver Road, a mile west of Plymouth, catching him a big trout. It's great fishing country down there, and J. R. makes the most of it whenever possible.

Appeal to You

The Ford Tudor Sedan, recently announced, is an attractive closed car with all-steel body in deep Channel Green, and bright nickle-plated radiator.

A pronounced stream-line effect has been achieved by dropping the chassis and lowering and lengthening the body. This also results in greater riding comfort because seats are low and deep, and the car is roomier.

See your nearest Ford dealer and have him explain the many new features, such as gas tank that is filled from outside, one-piece ventilating windshield, larger fenders, attractive upholstery, wider running boards and doors and improved brakes.

Remember—this added beauty, comfort and convenience is offered at no additional cost.

Lake Sunapee

A Boston Sunday Advertiser Motorlogue

SUNAPEE SCENERY IS IMPRESSIVELY BEAUTIFUL

Numerous Islands and Deep Bays Are Features; Surrounded by Hill and Mountain; Glens and Cliffs Abound

By DWIGHT L. PERRY

"A hill got lakes with deep bays." In such matter-of-fact manner does the tour-book describe the subject of Lake Sunapee. There is little room for play or imagination in the compilation of a tour-book. Space is limited. Descriptions are but phrases, phrases which could well be taken as titles to elaborate pictorializations, as is the case here.

A book could be written on Lake Sunapee, with the clause quoted above serving well as the book's name. Situated in the southwestern central portion of New Hampshire, surrounded by a gently rolling country devoted to farming, Sunapee is indeed a spot for the man of imagination, for the idealist. It is "great" with hills, some heavily wooded, some cleared by the farmer. It grows like much of its edge. Its shores winds in and out, here putting out into the lake, there forming one of the deep bays for which this sheet of water is famous.

Lake Sunapee, nine miles long and three miles wide, is at the apex of the watershed between the Connecticut and Merrimack Rivers, having outlets into both. It is the largest lake at its altitude in New England. It is the nucleus of one of the most popular Summer resorts in this section. Its banks are dotted with camps, and numerous good hotels may be found on all sides.

The way from Boston lies as follows: Route "4" from the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Beacon street, through Cambridge, Arlington, Burlington, Billerica, Lowell, North Chelmsford, Tyngsboro to the State Line; "10" through Nashua, Manchester to Concord; from Concord "9" to Hopkinton; then "12" through Concord, Warner, Bradford, Newbury to Lake Sunapee.

In returning follow "12" to Newbury, and then "10" South to Keene; "12" to Fitchburg, and "7" back to Boston.
